

ABIOTIC COMPONENTS

The structure of an ecosystem is basically a description of different abiotic and biotic components that constitute the ecosystem :-

(A) Abiotic components :-

The term abiotic refers to all kinds of non-living elements of the ecosystem which are essential to the dynamics and stability of the ecosystem.

These are of the following kinds:

