

Active Transport

TYPES OF TRANSPORT MOLECULES:

UNIORT	SYMPORT	ANTIORT
Uniort transports one solute at a time.	Symport transports the solute and a cotransported solute at the same time in the same direction.	Antiort transports the solute in (or out) and the co-transported solute the opposite direction. One goes in the other goes out or vice-versa.

TYPES OF ACTIVE TRANSPORT

